Here Come The Girls

The Girly Show is a collaboration of London's hottest and most requested dancers and singers. They tailor make beautiful bespoke shows adding sparkle and glamour to exclusive parties and events.

The Girly Show fuses neo-burlesque with stunning choreography to create an unforgettable spectacle for their clients and add a twist to any event.

Specialising in the "high end" and the celebrity party circuit the girls from 'The Girly Show' were the glamorous stars in the most infamous dance music video of all time 'Call On Me' by Eric Prydz.

From events at The Dorchester Ball Room, London and the Monaco Grand Prix to Sir Sol Kerzners private yacht party in Sardinia, these girls are a first class act with shows that ooze glamour and style. Rest assured, when you book the "The Girly Show" you are guaranteed the very highest level of class and entertainment.

Both men and woman alike enjoy The "Girly Show" they have a unique approach to entertainment and are now recognised all over the world. Offering an amazing repertoire of themed shows including a twist on Burlesque, 80's, Miami Beach, gorgeous Signature Girly Shows and everything in between there certainly is something for everyone and every event.

Laura Jayne the "Girly Shows" Director has been a successful dancer all her life. She made her West End debut at the young age of 18 as lead dancer in the hit musical Saturday Night Fever.

She later went on to tour internationally with many artists such as Kanye West, Kylie, Westlife and more recently danced and sang backing vocals on the successful Take That World Tour. Laura decided to start her own company as she felt there was a gap in the market for beautiful bespoke shows by the most fabulous dancers so she set up The Girly Show.

In fact success seems to run in Laura Jayne's family, she also has a famous brother, Matt Smith who is the current Dr Who and he is dating the gorgeous model Daisy Lowe.

From the slickest choreography to the dazzling crystals on each costume the whole bespoke package is brought to you from a team who are very dedicated and passionate about what they do.

The girls have oodles of experience and their CVs are all overflowing with references to their performances at A-list celebrity events to appearances in West End Theatres, TV shows and films.

Boasting a client list that reads like a star studded night at an awards ceremony, the girls have toured the world with Dianna Ross, Take That, Kylie Minogue and have danced for many different artists such as Sir Cliff Richard and Snoop Dog.

They have also performed for many celebrities at private parties and elite events including Cheryl Cole, Shirley Bassey, Hugh Grant, Liz Hurley, Naomi Campbell, Sir Phillip Green, Geri Halliwell, The Duchess of York and Princess Beatrice to name a few.

So far this year it's been non-stop for the girls and it seems there is no sign of them slowing down either. New Year's Eve saw them performing at a celebrity event at the Atlantis in the Bahamas followed by a visit to Las Vegas to perform an exclusive show with the Dolls at The Pussy Cat Doll Lounge, Caesars Palace.

They visited Nikkii beach, Russia and even popped over to New Delhi for a socialite wedding!

Laura Jayne has just finished producing their very own Girly Show Lounge in London at the famous Windmill Theatre which saw their celebrity guest Miss Daisy Lowe step into the spotlight and twinkle like the fabulous star that she is.

Still buzzing with energy the girls have lots of new projects in the pipeline, such as planning their next Lounge to working on their own individual TV and music projects in the UK & USA.

Something tells us that were going to be seeing a lot more of these girls on the Riviera – watch this space and look out for a sparkly pink bikini near you!
